

Moodle offers alternatives for what students see after they submit a quiz. In the Quiz settings page, open the Review options area to select what your students will see after they submit their responses.

Indicate what elements you wish your students to see after they complete the quiz at three key points: 1) immediately after they complete the quiz, 2) later, while the quiz is still open to others, and finally, 3) when the quiz is closed. The example above represents the default options (i.e., displaying just the score at each of these points in time). Information that students might review includes:

Option	What is shown...
The attempt	The quiz canvas (questions and answers) and answers selected
Whether correct	The attempt with responses marked correct or incorrect
Points	The final score (if the quiz includes essay questions that need to be manually graded, the final score will not be displayed until you have graded them)
Specific feedback	If you have entered specific feedback for questions in the quiz, it will appear below the question in the student's review display
General feedback	Similar to specific feedback, this is generated from the question itself
Right answer	The attempt with the correct answer indicated (see Recommended settings )
Overall feedback	Comments for students receiving scores in specific ranges that you create for this quiz in the related option area further down the page

To select options beyond the default settings, begin by checking the box for The attempt in the desired column (1, 2 or 3). This will allow you to select any of the other options. Note: If you choose options for After the quiz is closed, be sure that a close date has been set in the Timings option area.

Recommended Settings

For major exams, we suggest displaying only the score (Points) to students until after the quiz closes in order to discourage the sharing of questions and answers. We also recommend not displaying correct answers until after the quiz is closed, if at all.
